Students view vocation futures at 35 seminars

Thirty-five Vocations Day seminars gave Omaha U. students a peek into their professional futures Wednesday.

Students had the opportunity to discuss with experts the outlook and possibilities in various vocational fields. Seminars covering everything from foods and nutrition to journalism were conducted from 10 in the morning to 4:10 in the afternoon.

At 8:45 a. m. the door to OU's first Vocations Day was opened by Dr. Clifford Erickson.

The director of the Institute of Counseling, Testing and Guidance at Michigan State spoke to a capacity-filled auditorium. Dr. Erickson advised each student to include a large amount of personal development in his education.

"A record of straight A's is no longer the most important factor in getting a job," Erickson said. Today employers also look for personal development and participation in extra-curricular activities.

'Make careful selection

Dr. Erickson pointed out that each student should ask himself several questions: "Do I really know my own interests and abilities? Do I know the skills of interviewing for a job? Do I know of one job that I could do right now? Have I planned for self-improvement after graduation?"

"Turning the camera around," Erickson added, "the student should

Vocations talk ends Coffee Hour series

The question of vocations got a preliminary going-over Monday afternoon at the Coffee Hour, when five seniors, who already have definite job plans, discussed "What Can I Do?"

Members of the student panel were Bill Maloy, who will go into character education at the YMCA; Ed Kaiser, who will teach English at Scotia, Nebraska; Maurice Schultz who will go into the ministry; Judy Rutherford, who will go into journalism; Shirley Mitchell, who will go into retailing and store personnel.

Ma-ie Day hits final-plans stage

With Ma-ie Day festivities only a week away, Over-all Chairman Lloyd Metheny has released the following final-plans stage announcements:

Car registration for the parade closes at 3 Tuesday afternoon. Registration is being carried on at the ticket office on the first floor today, Monday and Tuesday from noon till 3.

Skit rehearsals are set for next week in the auditorium. Schedules of rehearsal times may be obtained in the dean of students office.

Tickets for the Ma-ie Day breakfast at 7:30 in Elmwood Park are now on sale in the ticket office. Prices are 25 cents for students, 35 cents for guests.

Full day scheduled Following the breakfast next

Governor, senate officers to dine with Bail tonight

Governor and Mrs. Val Peterson, the members and officers of the Nebraska State Senate, State Administrative officers and their wives will be guests at Omaha U today.

The "state house" party will tour the university at 4:30 and then be guest at a 5:30 dinner.

President Bail, in his invitation, stated that on the occasions when the university had made requests to the legislature they had been cooperative and genuinely helpful. He continued, "We are merely trying to say 'thank you' to those men at a time when they know that there is nothing in the legislative hopper that can be of benefit to us."

Other guests at the open house will be Omaha's Mayor Cunningham, Commissioner John Rosenblatt and their wives.

The press and radio staff at the legislature, president of the Omaha School Board and the president of the Western Baseball League, with their wives, will also be in the group. The faculty and members of the regents will also be present.

Friday students will have a full day of events. An Independent-Greek baseball game is on deck for 9 o'clock, the parade at 11, skits contest at 1 and the Field-house cornerstone ceremonies at 4:30. Princess Attira XV will be revealed at the close of the skits program.

Barclay Allen's orchestra will provide dance music from 8 to midnight at Peony Park concluding the university's big fun day. Couples will be admitted by two activity cards or one activity card and $1.20.

Mossholder asks for yearbook applications

Although this year's Tomahawk is not yet off the presses, it's time to lay the foundation for the 1950 edition.

Robert L. Mossholder, chairman of the Board of Publications, wants applications from students interested in being on next year's Tomahawk staff. Deadline for filing applications is May 18 at 5 p.m.

In making the announcement, Mossholder said that this is the earliest date work has been started. He added that the move is being made to get the organization of the yearbook under way earlier.

Registration begins today for summer, fall terms of study

Fall and summer registration begins today. Fall registration ends May 12, and summer registration will be accepted until June 11.

Students will find registration easier this year than it has been in the past. Rather than seven forms, registrants will be required to fill out only four.

Before September 1, a copy of the schedule and a statement of the tuition fees due will be mailed to students who register now for the fall term. Students are urged to register early to assure choice of classes and hours.

Schedule changes may be made anytime during the summer until September 1 at no extra cost. Second registration will be September 15. From September 21 through October 5 a charge of one dollar will be made on each program change.

OU students audition for radio broadcast

Amateur showmen and entertainers at the university will have a chance to earn a spot on a coast-to-coast network radio broadcast.

A special audition will be held at OU to find talent for the "Original Amateur Hour" program to air from Omaha Wednesday, May 18. Auditions will be held Wednesday, May 11, on the campus.

Talent is sought in all categories from vocalists, instrumentalists, either groups or individual, to roller skaters, magicians and other such novelty acts. Type of performance can range from jive to the classics.

The radio show was formally under the direction of the late Major Bowes. The present program is headed by Ted Mack. It can be heard Wednesday nights between 7 and 8 p. m. on KOIL.

Six girls aspire for Attira role

The fate of 35 office-seekers is being decided today.

Since 10 a. m. students have been going to the polls to vote for the Ma-ie Day Princess, Student Council representatives and board of Publications members.

Balloting is being done in the student lounge until 2 p. m. today.

Six senior girls hope to become Princess Attira XV and reign over the May 13 Ma-ie Day activities. Juniors eyeing senior council seats total eight. Nine look to junior posts on the council, and the same number of freshmen are pushing for sophomore positions. Four persons are running for posts on the Board of Publications.

The ballot

Ma-ie Day Princess: Marjory Mahoney, Phyllis Earp, Dolores "Jo" Hughes, Virginia Oberg, Marilee Steinman and Judy Rutherford.

Senior Council Representatives: Sherry Selders, Eileen Wolfe, Jean Bressler, Jean Satrapa, Cliff Boyd, Richard Johnson, Gilbert Wilson and Lloyd Metheny.

Junior Council Representatives: Jackie Geilus, Sally Step, Maufrey Stewart, Lorraine Klaiman, Robert Janney, Harry Langdon, Tom Slack, Bill Sykora and Eugene Hampton.

McPherson to emcee Ma-ie Day programs

Nationally known entertainer James McPherson, author of numerous books on espionage and translator of double entendres originally mumbled by Ossian, the son of Fingal, a Gaelic prince of the third century, has been contracted to emcee the Ma-ie Day skit program.

"Selecting me was a lucky break for Omaha. I'm a panic," McPherson told The Gateway in a phone call from his palatial suite in the now-shuttered Barrel House, where he has lived in seclusion for the past two years while preparing the Ma-ie Day script. "My acts are clever and entertaining, and I'll wow the audience."

Harley Beher: Debate team; track squad. Platform: Fair and impartial representation and complete cooperation with students.

John Baldwin: Phi Sig Phi; Phi Eta Sigma; Gamma Pi Sigma. Platform: Equal and thorough representation of each member of my class. Each member should and must have his say in his own government.

Mark Gautier: Student Council; Phi Eta Sigma; Independents; Tennis Team.

Ben Tobias: Student Council; Theta; Warriors. Platform: To fulfill the wishes of the students.

Don Ortiz: Independents. Platform: Represent the student body to the best of my ability.

Junior Council

Maulfrey Stewart: Kappa Psi Delta; Feathers. Platform: I will truly represent the students of the junior class.

Harry Langdon: Phi Sigma Phi; Phi Eta Sigma; University Chorus; University Players; "The Late George Apley." Platform: I am for a more adult attitude toward student affairs, a return of card playing to the campus, and fair play for all students.

Sally Step: Unaffiliated; Alpha Lambda Delta, president; Gateway Staff, copyreader, news editor; Sigma Tau Delta, Tomahawk Staff; Debate; KBON Day; Deans Honor Roll; University Scholarship. Platform: Less restrictions on student activities.

Robert Janney: Theta Phi Delta. Platform: To raise OU to a more adult standard, get more representation of all students to council and ban card playing until after 2 p. m.

Jackie Gellus: Sigma Chi Omicron; Alpha Lambda Delta, secretary; Kappa Mu Lambda. Platform: Primarily to keep the student's view in mind and express their desires. To promote the "get together" stuff this university needs, such as card playing.

Eugene Hampton: Student Council; President sophomore class; Phi Sigma Phi. Platform: I will guarantee a fair and impartial study of any question that may come before the council.

Bill Sykora: Independents; Platform: I will do my best to reflect the views of the majority of the students.

Tom Slack: Theta Phi Delta; University Players; The Late George Apley; Student Council.

Lorraine Klaiman: Independents; University Players; ASGD. Platform: To help cut red tape for student activities.

Senior Council

Sherry Selders: Student Council; Secretary-treasurer junior class; Sigma Chi Omicron; Home Ec Club; Feathers; University Players; Tomahawk Staff. Platform: I will work for fewer restrictions on student activities.

Jean Satrapa: Independents, vice president; Feathers, secretary. Platform: I will work for closer cooperation between all organizations and for more enthusiasm among all students.

Eileen Wolfe: Vice-chairman of Vocations Day, Independents, presiding.

CAR vice presidency awarded to Borland

Jim Borland, OU sophomore, returned last week from Washington, D. C., where he was elected national junior vice president of the Children of the American Revolution.

Ross contracted to MC Ma-ie Day skits

Nationally known entertainer Sir James Ross, who recently discovered a rich hoard of unused Milton Berle jokes while exploring a great ice-bordered continent which he named Victoria Land in honor of New York's Victorian Burlesque theatre, has been contracted to emcee the Ma-ie Day skit program.

"Selecting me was a lucky break for Omaha. I'm a panic," Ross said. He explained his titled name by displaying the plaque presented him by the Prince Regent of Andorra for heroism beyond the normal line of duty in destroying the mildewed corny Milton Berle jokes when preparing the Ma-ie Day script. "My acts," he added, "are clever and entertaining, and I'll wow the audience."

Engineers Day begins tomorrow with tours

High school students interested in engineering will get a peep at the inside of OU's Engineering Department tomorrow.

Beginning at 9:30 in the morning the future engineers will hear a speech by Patrick Moulton of the Omaha Public Power District, after which they will see a movie.

The Engineering Department will throw open its doors for conducted tours, enabling the students to become acquainted with the various aspects of engineering.

Tour leaders are Bob Kruse and Herbert Larsen for the aeronautical group; Duane Olberts and Don Slezak for the industrial group; Eugene Andrews and John Pizzato for the civil and architectural groups; Richard Hill and Ray Sivenson for the electrical group and Alford Stone and Thomas Vierling for the general engineering group.

Cardwell's trackmen at Peru meet today

Twenty-one Omaha U. track men were scheduled to leave by bus at noon today for the Peru Invitational this afternoon. Five schools will compete in the meet.

The Indians, fresh from Tuesday's victory over Nebraska Wesleyan, will go against men from Peru, Wesleyan, Midland and Tarkio.

Today's traveling roster: Bernie Anderson, mile and two mile; Cleveland Marshall, 100 and 220; Carl Lomatch, 100, low hurdles and broad jump; Bobby Dow, high and low hurdles and javelin; John Adams, high hurdles and javelin; Lorelle Alford, 440 and pole vault; Roy Carlson, 440; Don Bahnsen, Dick Nelson and Don Thompson, 880; Hopie Bronson, 220; Glen Richter, Brad Johnson and Eugene Heins, high jump; Paul Larson, pole vault; Ray Beal and Phil Barber, discus; N. C. Fitz, broad jump; Howard Byram, discus and shot; and Charlie Anderson and Jim Woodhead, shot.

Undefeated links team after No. 7

Omaha University's undefeated golf team will shoot for its seventh straight win this afternoon against Nebraska B. The match starts at 1 at Indian Hills.

Monday the OU linksmen will tackle Midland at Fremont.

The Indians copped win No. 6 Tuesday without much of a squabble. Doane was a 15-0 victim. The Tigers were beaten 12-0 in a four-man match at Crete earlier this year. Ray Nelson and Chet Stefanski led the Omahans Tuesday with 74 each. Results:

Pritchard's netters clash with Bluejays

After a six match tune-up, OU netmen will get their chance to shatter the Bluejay myth this afternoon.

And Coach George Pritchard says his boys hope to make it tougher on the Hilltoppers than did the baseball and golf teams.

In their only other action this week, the Red and Black racquet-tees scored a repeat win over Doane College in a Tuesday match on the Dewey Park courts.

The Tiger's only win came in the doubles when Duncan and Ted Alford combined to beat the Indian tandem of Charles Geisler and Mark Gautier, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 in the only three set match of the day. Summaries:

Fred Pisasale, OU, defeated Harry Duncan, 6-0, 6-1; Harold Hlad, OU, defeated John Alcock, 8-6, 6-0; Jim Reed, OU, defeated Ted Alford, 6-2, 6-0; Bob Wray, OU, defeated Wayland Gardner, 6-1, 6-1; and Don Easter, OU, defeated Leo Marek, 6-4, 6-2. Pisasale-Hlad, OU, defeated Marek-Gardner, 6-1, 7-5. Duncan-Alford, OU, defeated Gautier-Geisler, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Indian nine after fourth straight win this afternoon at Fontenelle

A rapidly developing Indian nine is host to South Dakota U this afternoon at Fontenelle Park at 2:45.

The Red and Black will try to make the Sodaks their fourth straight victim. After dropping the season's opener to Washburn, the Indians have bounced back strong to win three games by run-away scores.

First meeting

This will be the first meeting of the nines this season. OU met the Sodaks once last season and won the decision 10-4.

Coach Yelkin is undecided whether to use the lineup that started the Creighton game or the Doane game. His preference for starting pitcher is Joe Spagnola or Paul Sorenson. Rene Hlavac will be behind the platter.

Yelkin's roster this season still includes 21 men. He explained that it is unusually large because there is no assistant coach. "I don't want to let any of the boy's go until I know just what they can do," Virg said.

Morningside Monday

Slated for this Monday, the Indians find possibly their strongest opponent on the schedule blocking the victory path.

Morningside, probably the oldest foe of the university, is host to the Yelkinmen at Sioux City.

Yelkin has announced that he is trying to reschedule the rained-out Morningside home game for Maie Day. He is awaiting approval of the date from the Maroons.

Hlavac O Club prexy

Rene Hlavac was handed the presidential reigns of the "O" Club at their election last Monday.

Other officers elected are: Ray Schmidt, vice president, and Lorelle Alford, secretary.

John Jones was appointed head of the Maie Day float committee and Rene Hlavac will be in charge of initiation.

OU thinclads rack up first victory

One school record fell Tuesday as Omaha's track team notched its first victory of the season. The Indians nosed out Nebraska Wesleyan 69 1/15 to 61 14/15 in a dual meet on the Omaha oval.

Lorelle Alford upped the pole vault mark to 11 ft. 1 in. despite a wind which bothered contestants all afternoon. The former record of 11 ft. was set in 1937 and tied last year by Alford.

Anderson double winner

Bernie Anderson became the first double winner of the season when he posted wins in the mile and two mile.

After leading for three and a half laps in the mile, he dropped to second. Then with a powerful kick on the last curve he caught his man ten yards from the finish line.

Omaha's cindermen opened up the meet with a sweep in the broad jump led by N. C. Fitz. Don Bahnsen and Dick Nelson continued their domination of the half mile with a first and a second.

Wesleyan's sweep in the javelin and the 220, however, pulled the Plainsmen into a four point lead with two events left.

Dow, Lomatch come through

Bob Dow and Carl Lomatch came through with a win and a second in the low hurdles to put Omaha three points ahead. Thus, the outcome of the meet rested on the results of the mile relay.

Dick Nelson, Roy Carlson, Don Bahnsen and Lorelle Alford turned in a 3:37.2 performance to win the event and the meet.

How the Indians scored: B. Anderson, first in mile and two mile; Don Bahnsen, first in half mile; Nelson, second in half mile; Carlson, third in 440; Marshall, second in 100; Lomatch second in low hurdles, third in 100 and broad jump; Dow, first in low hurdles, second in high hurdles; Woodhead, second in the shot put; Byram, third in shot put; Barber, second in discus; Beal, third in discus; N. C. Fitz, first in broad jump; Arenas, tie for first in high jump, second in broad jump; Richter, tie for first in high jump; Johnson, tie for first in high jump; L. Alford, first in pole vault; Larson, tie for second in pole vault; Pettit, tie for second in pole vault.

Golf, tennis, softball intramuralers active

The Intramural program picks up momentum this week as golf makes its debut on the agenda.

Any student interested in the fairway sport, should sign the petition posted in the men's locker room.

Intramural tennis first round matches are to be completed by Tuesday. A schedule of the softball pairings is listed in the men's locker room with the first action slated Monday. The games will be played on top of the West hill.

OU nine has batting spree against Doane

The Doane Tigers got badly clawed by a rampant OU nine last Tuesday. Doane's second encounter with the Indians this season proved to be a disastrous 27-5 carnage.

Whatever the Cretemen have learned so far in their first season of baseball, one thing is certain: they have acquired a healthy respect for the Red and Black hitting.

Indians explode

The Yelkinmen wasted no time in exploding their newly awakened batting dynamite. Starting Tiger pitcher Don Dutcher got lambasted for 10 runs the first inning.

Slugging laurels went to Pitcher George Kostal and catcher Bob McNutt. Kostal punched out a triple and two singles in three appearances at the plate. McNutt also had three for three record with a double and two singles.

Aboud shifted

Freddy Aboud who was literally all over the field because Yelkin tried him at third, second and the outfield, also looked good at the plate. Freddy got three for five, including a home run. Virg is hopeful that Aboud has finally found the combination that gave him a .400 plus batting average two seasons ago.

As per usual, Walt Matejka turned in a sterling performance at third and the plate. He got two for four, including a home run.

Batteries—Kostal, Sorenson, Gordon and McNutt, Hlavac; Dutcher, Erikson, Schultz and Moore.

Six vie for princess title

By Doris Hanson

Friday, the 13th will be a lucky day for one of the six senior candidates for Ma-ie Day Princess.

Students will go to the polls today to cast ballots for Princess Attira XV. Her identity will be revealed during the Ma-ie Day Tribal Presentations next Friday afternoon.

Phyllis Earp, energetic, hard-working brunette from Phi Delta Psi, is a former president of the University Players, and vice-president of Corinthians. She was a class officer both her sophomore and junior years, and belongs to the Home Economics Club. Her theatrical experience includes a role in "The Late George Apley" and several earlier one-act productions.

Green is tops

After graduation, Phyl plans to go on to a masters degree in her major field, clinical psychology. Among those items which rate "tops" with her is the color green, in any shade or form.

Sigma Chi Omicron's president with personality plus is Dolores Hughes. She prefers the name "Jo" because "it's shorter." A member of Sigma Tau Delta, the Inter-sorority Council, and Student Council, Jo is especially active in the University Players. She has appeared in all their plays during her years at OU. A Gateway staff member for two years she served as society editor, and is associate editor of the 1949 Tomahawk.

Career in perfume

Brown-eyed Jo hopes to use her journalism major after graduation in August to get into perfume advertising. She hates formality of any kind, but loves acting. Her greatest achievement says she, is "being able to talk endlessly."

A dark-haired Irish colleen with a four-year record of Student Council activity is peppy Marjorie Mahoney. A former Council treasurer, Marge has been chairman of several dance and program committees. She has headed both the Feathers and Independents and is also a member of Pi Kappa Delta and University Players.

Likes sports, music

Marge is gaining practical experience for her speech major teaching dramatics at Brownell Hall. Her future plans include hopes for a job directing a children's theatre. "All sports" and music head this busy girl's list of favorite forms or recreation.

Friendly Virginia Oberg, is vice-president of Kappa Psi Delta, senior committee chairman, and member of Alpha Kappa Delta. Virginia is also active in WAA, as she is "just crazy about sports."

Virginia, a tall, green-eyed blonde is majoring in sociology, but her post-graduation plans center about an August wedding.

Tall, fair Judy Rutherford can be found in The Gateway office at any hour working as Tomahawk Editor. She has been on the paper staff for two years, and is treasurer of Gamma Sigma Omicron. Along with her busy school schedule, Judy recently took over as director of publicity for the Omaha YMCA.

An August graduate, Judy plans to follow her writing major in the field of advertising or public relations. She has a strong liking for small, friendly towns, inch high heels, and moving from state to state.

The Chi Omega members picked Marilee Steinman as their candidate. Second place winner in the recent Tomahawk beauty contest, Marilee is an education major and member of Sigma Pi Phi education fraternity. She has belonged to the University Players and Orchestras.

Green-eyed, auburn-haired Marilee already has a teaching position in the Omaha Public Schools for next fall. Her favorite sports are swimming and ice skating.

Marshal will be MC for Ma-ie Day skits

Nationally known entertainer John Marshal, who recently resigned as chief justice of the United States because he "felt like a fool sittin' up on the bench in that floppy black shirt," has been contracted to emcee the Ma-ie Day skit program.

"Selecting me was a lucky break for Omaha. I'm a panic," Marshal told The Gateway in an interview conducted while he thumbed through ancient low histories, jotting down practical jokes and punch lines for the Ma-ie Day skits. "My acts are clever and entertaining, and I'll wow the audience."

Engagements

The engagement of Alice Mae Smith and Frank Bedell has been announced.

The couple attends the university where Miss Smith is a member of Sigma Pi Phi, honorary education fraternity. Bedell is affiliated Alpha Phi Omega.

A late August wedding is planned.

Jane Christensen weds Bob Johnson

Jane Christensen and Robert D. Johnson were married April 30 at the home of the bride's mother. A wedding supper was held at the Paxton Hotel following the ceremony.

The couple attends the university where Mrs. Johnson is affiliated with Chi Omega; Johnson, a sophomore, is a football letterman.

They will make their home at 5115 Burt Street.

of the informal affair for Sig Chi actives, pledges, and alums. Chuck Canuso's orchestra will furnish the music.

Alpha Sig's name Sweetheart today

The '49 Sweetheart of Alpha Sig will be picked from a field of five OU co-eds tonight at the fraternity's annual spring dance.

Candidates for the honor are Carol Dawson, Sig Chi; Edith Hass, Kappa; Mary McBride, Phi Delt; Joan Nickerson, Chi O; and Natalie Schroen, Gamma.

The informal dance will be held in the ballroom of the Livestock Exchange Building from 9 to midnight. Ray Bachman's orchestra will play for the all Greek affair.

Picked in advance by secret ballot of the fraternity, this year's choice will be serenaded by members following the coronation at intermission.

Intermission entertainment will be provided by sorority members. Darlene Nelson will sing and Jean Banse will give a reading. Pianists Donna Roessig and Diana Fielding will play.

President Dolores Huges, Susie Vickery and Jean McDonald are in charge of arrangements.
